Textile Inspirations/ Stripe Blends Gone Wild

You may know what colors you like but exactly how to mix them and use them in harmonious combinations can be challenging. In this workshop, you will learn how to add impact to your work with increased color confidence while learning several valuable skills for working with polymer clay. You will learn strategies for designing and mixing cohesive color schemes, including how to choose a level of saturation within your comfort zone. You will learn the secret of making successful stripe Skinner blends that will be used to make seven different laminated textile patterns including the Log Cabin Quilt design, Spirals, Seminole patterns, Bargello and a variation of Nine Patch. In addition to having fun, you will leave with a series of wearable color samples/brooches.

This workshop will increase your awareness of how appropriate color choices and contrasts can add impact to your work. You will see how the three properties of color: value, hue and saturation, dazzle and change when proportion, juxtaposition and surface are consciously adjusted.

LINDLY HAUNANI's work has appeared in more than fifty invitational and juried shows. She was awarded a prestigious Niche Award in 2009.

Lindly is a founding member of the National Polymer Clay Guild. Along with Pierrette Ashcroft, she is the author of "Artist's at Work: Polymer Clay Comes of Age." Lindly's latest book was written with Maggie Maggio. "Color Inspirations" has become the reference manual for the polymer community and for artists in other media as well. She has produced several video workshops and been featured in many magazines. She began teaching workshops in 1990 and enjoys traveling to lecture and inspire artists. She is known for her gentle and empowering teaching style.
