

POST-HOLIDAY DOLDRUM RELIEF

JOYCE CLOUTMAN'S PUMPKINS

In Joyce's own words:

As far back as I can remember creating art has been a part of my life. I have no formal training, being mostly self-taught. In the 70's I taught painting for about 12 years and enjoyed it, but felt I was missing something. I discovered polymer clay, like so many others, by watching Carol Duval show. I played with polymer clay many years before I was able to take a class. Learning on your own is important, but taking a class with an experienced teacher can push you years ahead. I really have enjoyed time spent with polymer clay. I love the versatility of this medium! I'm a member of 3 polymer clay guilds in Texas (Houston Polymer Clay Guild, North Texas Polymer Clay Guild and Austin Polymer Clay Guild) and am also a member of Central Texas Art Doll Sculptors.

(Joyce is an award winning doll sculptor.)

The Holidays are over and January stretches ahead with cold weather, bills and gloom. Joyce's one day character pumpkin class is the perfect picker-upper for the relief of post-holiday doldrums.

FEE: $75 (for NTPCG Members) Nonmembers contact workshop@ntpcg.org

DATE: Jan 11, 2019

LOCATION: The Point, Fitness Center Classroom, C.C. Young, 4847 Lawther Dr, Dallas, Texas 75214

For registration info contact workshop@ntpcg.org